Policy Owner Disclosure

The owner of the life insurance policy, as well as each person insured by the life insurance policy (an insured), should be aware of the following:

1. Some or all of the proceeds of your life settlement may be taxable under federal income tax and/or state franchise and income tax laws. You should consult a professional tax advisor.
2. The sale of your insurance policy may affect your right to receive Medicaid or other government benefits or entitlements. Advice on such effects should be obtained from the appropriate government agencies.
3. Asset Life Settlements, LLC will only process your life insurance policy through licensed providers/purchasing companies to the extent required by applicable law.
4. A broker represents exclusively the policy owner, and not the insurer or the life settlement provider, and, if required by State law, owes a fiduciary duty to the policy owner's instructions and the best interest of the policy owner. You agree that your agent represents you exclusively. Further, you agree that Asset Life Settlements owes a duty only to Asset Life Settlements Independent Producer (your agent), and not to you, where allowed by law.
5. Asset Life Settlements, LLC will be compensated. The life settlement provider company, not the policy owner, will compensate Asset Life Settlements, LLC based on a formula that is a percentage of the face value of the life insurance policy. For example: compensation for a $100,000 policy could be: $8\% \times $100,000$ (face value) = $8,000.00. Compensation can include, but is not limited to, bonuses, overrides or other funds in addition to broker commissions.
6. There are possible alternatives to selling your life insurance. This may include the option of an accelerated death benefit or policy loans offered by your life insurance company. You are advised to consult a financial advisor, certified public accountant or an attorney regarding these potential alternatives.
7. The name, business address, and phone number of the entity that serves as independent third-party escrow agent that disburses your settlement proceeds is: [furnished at your request]. You may, if you wish, inspect or receive a copy of the escrow agreement or documents for your settlement from the escrow agent.
8. Once you have received your proceeds from the sale of your life insurance policy, you will have up to fifteen (15) days from receipt of the life settlement proceeds in which to rescind the transaction. If the insured dies during the rescission period the settlement contract shall be deemed rescinded, subject to repayment of all settlement proceeds. Funds should be sent to you within (3) business days after the insurer or group administrator's acknowledgment that ownership of the policy or interest in the certificate has been transferred and the beneficiary has been designated. Please refer to your settlement contract for detail of the provisions.
9. Your entering into a life settlement contract may cause other rights or benefits, including conversion rights and waiver of premium benefits that may exist under the policy or certificate, to be forfeited by the Policy Owner. Assistance should be sought from a financial advisor.
10. Life Settlement proceeds could be subject to the claims of creditors.

11. All medical, financial or personal information solicited or obtained by a life settlement provider or broker about an insured, including the insured's identity or the identity of family members, a spouse or a significant other may be disclosed as necessary to effect the life settlement between the policy owner and the life settlement provider. If you are asked to provide this information, you will be asked to consent to the disclosure. The information may be provided to someone who buys the policy or provides funds for the purchase. You may be asked to renew your permission to share information every two years.

12. Following the execution of the life settlement contract, the insured may be contacted for the purpose of determining the insured's health status and to confirm the insured's residential or business street address and telephone number, or as otherwise provided under State law. This contact may be limited to once every three (3) months if the insured has a life expectancy of more than one year, and no more than once per month if the insured has life expectancy of one year or less. All such contacts shall be made only by a life settlement provider licensed in the state in which the policy owner resided at the time of the life settlement, or by the authorized representative of a duly licensed life settlement provider.

13. Disclosure to a Policy Owner shall include distribution of a brochure describing the process of life settlements. The NAIC's form for the brochure shall be used unless another form is developed or approved by the commissioner of the state in question.

LIFE INSURANCE POLICY OWNER/SELLER INFORMATION
First Name	Middle Name	Last Name	Jr/Sr/III/etc.

Arizona law allows you to sell your life insurance policy to a third party for an amount that is less than the full death benefit. The buyer becomes the new owner and the beneficiary of the life insurance policy, pays all future premiums and collects the entire death benefit when you die. This is called a life settlement contract.

Arizona Revised Statutes (“ARS”) § 20-3204, subsections A and B, require that a life settlement provider or life settlement broker provide you with the following information in writing before you apply for or enter into a life settlement contract:

IMPORTANT: READ THIS DISCLOSURE FORM BEFORE SIGNING ANY LIFE SETTLEMENT CONTRACT

Before you submit an application for a life settlement, you should know:

1. There are possible alternatives to life settlements, including accelerated benefits options that your life insurer may offer or policy loans.
2. Some or all of the proceeds of a life settlement may be taxable. You should seek assistance from a professional tax adviser.
3. The proceeds from a life settlement could be subject to the claims of creditors.
4. Receiving proceeds from a life settlement contract may adversely affect your eligibility for public assistance or other government benefits or entitlements. You should obtain advice from the appropriate agencies.
5. Entering into a life settlement contract may cause you to forfeit other rights or benefits including conversion rights and waiver of premium benefits that you may have under the policy or certificate of a group policy. You should seek assistance from a professional financial adviser.
6. You can rescind the life settlement contract within fifteen (15) days after the date that all parties execute the life settlement contract and you have received all required disclosures (the “rescission period”). To rescind the life settlement contract, you must notify the provider in writing, and you must repay all proceeds and any premiums, loans and loan interest paid on account of the provider during the rescission period. If the insured dies during the rescission period, the life settlement contract shall be deemed rescinded once you or your estate repay all proceeds and any premiums, loans and loan interest to the provider.

7. Before the provider can pay you the proceeds from the life settlement contract, the provider needs to be notified by the life insurer or group administrator that the ownership of the policy or the interest in the certificate of insurance has been transferred, and that the beneficiary has been designated according to the terms of the life settlement contract. The provider is required to pay you the proceeds from the life settlement contract within three business days after the provider has received the insurer or group administrator's notification.
8. The provider should tell you the date by which the monies will be available to you and the transmitter of the monies.
9. The provider or the broker or its authorized representative may periodically contact the insured to determine the insured's health status or to verify the insured's address. This contact is limited to once every three months if the insured has a life expectancy of more than one year, and is limited to once per month if the insured has a life expectancy of one year or less.
10. Attached to this disclosure document is Form P-LSA: Life Settlement Affiliations, which provides information about the broker, and notifies you of affiliations or contractual relations between the provider and the broker, and any affiliation between the provider and the issuer of the policy to be settled.
11. A broker represents you exclusively and not the insurer or the provider or any other person. The broker owes a fiduciary duty to you, including a duty to act according to your instructions and in your best interest.

All medical, financial or personal information solicited or obtained by a provider or broker about an insured, including the insured's identity or the identity of family members, a spouse or a significant other, may be disclosed as necessary to effect the life settlement contract between you and the provider. If you are asked to provide this information, you will be asked to consent to the disclosure. The information may be provided to someone who buys the policy or provides monies for the purchase. You may be asked to renew your permission to share information every two years.

Any person who knowingly presents false information in an application for insurance or life settlement contract is guilty of a class 1 misdemeanor and may be subject to fines and confinement in jail.

Signature required by ARS § 20-3204(A). By signing this form, you acknowledge that you read and understand the information contained on this disclosure document. If you need legal advice, you should consult an attorney.

I further understand that, as a result of this authorization, there is the potential for my PHI that is disclosed by any Authorized HCP to an Authorized Recipient to be subject to redisclosure by the Authorized Recipient and my PHI that is disclosed to such Authorized Recipient may no longer be protected by the HIPAA Privacy Regulations.

Questions to Ask

- Do I still need life insurance protection?
- If I sell my policy, how do they decide how much cash I get?
- Is this an employer or other group policy? If so, do I need permission to sell it?
- If I sell my policy, who will be the legal owner?
- Do I need the advice of a tax or estate planning advisor before I decide to sell my policy?
- Who will have specific information about me, my family or my health status?
- After I sell my policy, can it be resold by the buyer?

Your state insurance department may have a list of life settlement providers and producers that are licensed to do business in the state. Contact them to make sure yours are on the list.

Always Check with Your State

Contact your state insurance or securities departments to learn about the issues and risks of life settlements if:

- you're considering selling your life insurance policy;
- you're asked to sell your life insurance policy and your health hasn't changed since you bought the policy;
- you're asked to buy a new life insurance policy and immediately sell it for cash.

Buying a Life Insurance Policy?

If you're interested in buying a life insurance policy as an investment, contact your state securities department before you make a decision.

Selling Your Life Insurance Policy

Understanding Life Settlements

What is a Life Settlement?

A life settlement is the sale of a life insurance policy to a third party. The owner of the life insurance policy sells the policy for an immediate cash benefit.

The buyer (the life settlement provider) becomes the new owner of the life insurance policy, pays future premiums, and collects the death benefit when the insured dies.

At one time, most life settlements were from people with a life-threatening illness. Now, individuals who are not facing a health crisis may sell their life insurance policies to get cash.

Your state insurance department and the National Association of Insurance Commissioners want you to have the facts before you sell your life insurance policy. This brochure provides some of that information, but it is only a starting point. Consult your own professional financial advisor, attorney, or accountant to help you decide if this is the most suitable arrangement for you.

Consider Your Options

If you're selling your policy to get cash to pay expenses, check all of your options. You may find a way to get more cash from your life insurance policy.

1. Ask your insurance agent or company if you have any cash value in your life insurance policy. You may be able to use some of the cash value to meet your immediate needs and keep your policy in force for your beneficiaries. You may also be able to use the cash value as security for a loan from a financial institution.
2. Find out if your life insurance policy has an accelerated death benefit. An accelerated death benefit typically pays some of the policy's death benefit before the insured dies. It may be a way for you to get cash from a policy without selling it to a third party.

Consumer tips

- Comparison shop. Get quotes from several companies to make sure you have a competitive offer.
- Find out the tax implications. Not all proceeds received from the sale of your life insurance policy are tax free.
- It's important to know that any of your creditors could claim your cash settlement.
- Find out if you will lose any public assistance benefits such as food stamps or Medicaid if you get a cash settlement.
- The buyer of your policy can periodically ask you about your health status. The buyer is required to give you a privacy notice outlining who will get this personal information. Be sure to read it.
- Check all application forms for accuracy, especially your medical history. All questions must be answered truthfully and completely.
- Make sure the life settlement provider agrees to put your settlement proceeds into an independent escrow account to protect your funds during the transfer.
- Find out if you have the right to change your mind about the settlement AFTER you get the money. If so, how many days do you have to reconsider and return the money?
